

JEFF-RAGLUS

BELLATRIX

Bellatrix is the solo debut from the guy that brought you The Feeling Groovies, Fogg, The Beachniks and The Bachelors From Prague.

As a prolific visual artist Jeff Raglus has been exhibiting for years. Whether as creator of Schnorky the Wavepuncher, Mambo designer extraordinaire, a working artist or musician, Raglus maintains a creative output of incredible depth and quality.

Bellatrix has been described as psychedelic folk, but then there are also moments of acid cocktail and splashes of salt spray laced surf. This whimsical folk funk experience has hints of Raglus' musical pedigree but is spun with a kiss from today.

Dealing with big issues; love and death, sex and loneliness, Bellatrix comments on those with lives of civil obedience and the complexity of relationships. Like any other piece of Raglus art, under a seemingly simple surface lies much and time is needed to take it all in.

Crafted with help from former bandmates and good friends Rebecca Barnard, Adam Simmons, Nicky Bomba, Bruce Haymes, James Sherlock and Simon Burke the funk folk journey of Bellatrix is worth every step. As collectable as all Raglus art, Bellatrix - hear it and believe!
